John,

Because we did not report a full year of crime in 2009, the FBI did not publish our crime stats. As a result, this group made an estimate. In looking at the article itself, it looks like they only refer to using the county numbers for job growth, not crime stats. They also messed up on the population. Our 2010 crimes stats are available now from the FBI.

I looked at our numbers for 2010 and here is where we are at:

Crime Against Persons: 2.25 crimes per 1,000
Crimes Against Property: 36.53 crimes per 1,000

I pulled a few surrounding cities and calculated their rates as compared to ours. Here they are:

City	Crimes Against Persons	Crimes Against Property
Kennesaw	.67	17.66
Peachtree City	.35	13.82
Alpharetta	.85	25.49
Johns Creek	.65	8.39
Sandy Springs	2.01	28.41

Here is how we stack up when compared to Alpharetta which has a large mall as well:

City	# of officers	# of officers per 1,000 citizens	Part 1 Crime	Part 1 Crime per 10,000
Dunwoody	46	.99	1,794	388
Alpharetta	106	1.84	1,516	263

In 2010, the Dunwoody Police Department had almost 20% more Part 1 Crime than the Alpharetta Police Department. The Alpharetta Police Department has 130% more officers than the Dunwoody Police Department.

Please let me know if you have any further questions.

Billy,

Can you give me a comparison of these two charts for Dunwoody. Please turn Apples & Oranges to Apples & Apples.

I would also like to have current up to date data sent to OnBoard Analysis so that no one ever uses County Crime Data for us ever again.

Thanks.
