ROBERT F. DALLAS BIOGRAPHY

SKILL SUMMARY

I am a civil lawyer with extensive experience in developing and implementing public health and safety behavioral programs. My business and legal background serve as the foundation for my numerous leadership roles in both nongovernmental and governmental organizations. My over twenty years in public health, sixteen years as a planning commissioner, and eight years as a highway safety director, have taught me how to align disparate interests in transportation, public safety, public health and land use to achieve public behavior changes that improve health outcomes. I have made innumerable presentations in the subjects of transportation, highway safety, and land use to professionals with the goal of aligning resources to achieve common goals.

Jennifer Harper

Jennifer Harper is a registered professional engineer with a Bachelor of Civil Engineering from Auburn University. She currently serves as the Program Director for the Perimeter Community Improvement Districts (PCIDs) and has been in that role for the past four years. The PCIDs, representing both the Central (DeKalb) and Fulton Perimeter CIDs, are self-taxing districts that use additional property taxes to help accelerate needed transportation and infrastructure improvement projects. The PCIDs are leading the charge to implement vital transportation enhancements coupled with land use and zoning strategies that will enhance mobility and improve access to the Perimeter activity center. The program consist of a portfolio of transportation studies, designs, construction and programs to improve access, safety and mobility within the PCIDs' four square mile business district. The state, local and PCIDs-led transportation portfolio consists of eighteen (18) active transportation projects within the PCIDs as well as $1.1M for PCIDs annual programs (capital maintenance, police officers, landscape maintenance etc.). The PCIDs program is coordinated between five local jurisdictions, state and federal agencies on behalf of the property owners located within the PICDs boundaries.

Cheryl Spitalnick, MBA, is an Associate Relationship Manager with MidFirst Bank. She is responsible for financing commercial real estate loans and managing commercial real estate loan portfolios for properties located throughout the Southeast. She works directly with commercial real estate owners, investors, and other banking institutions to find a financing solution while maintaining the credit considerations and requirements of the bank. Her day to day responsibilities include analyzing and creating property financial statements, evaluating and interpreting legal documents relating to the real estate and mortgage transaction, preparing documents and market studies for decision makers within the Bank and other key stakeholders, marketing the Bank's financial capabilities and loan programs externally, and presenting financial data and plans to colleagues and management within the Bank.

Mrs. Spitalnick has 10 years of working experience in commercial real estate finance, with a diverse portfolio, including investment deals ranging from $2M to $50M in total value. Prior to her current position at MidFirst Bank, Mrs. Spitalnick worked at JP Morgan in its Atlanta investment office. She received her undergraduate degree from the University of Georgia. Before starting a career in commercial real estate, finance, and banking, Mrs. Spitalnick was a technology consultant and software engineer working with companies to improve quality assurance and business effectiveness through technology integration. In 2005, Mrs. Spitalnick completed her MBA in commercial real estate and finance from the University of Georgia.

Mrs. Spitalnick has been a resident of Dunwoody since 2007. Her husband, Josh, is a board certified clinical psychologist who owns a practice in Dunwoody. Together, they have two children ages 7 and 4. Their oldest child attends Austin Elementary School where Mrs. Spitalnick has been an active volunteer and is also involved with the school's Foundation. In addition to these activities, she is involved in the Terry College of Business networking programs, providing seminars and networking opportunities to young professionals in real estate and is an avid fundraiser and supporter of breast cancer research and awareness. In her free time, Mrs. Spitalnick enjoys reading, playing tennis, and spending time with her family.

Robert A. Miller, CCIM, RPA, MSRE is a licensed real estate broker in Georgia, Virginia, Tennessee, Alabama, South Carolina and North Carolina. A native of Norfolk, Virginia, Robert began his business career in construction management working for a General Contractor in Colorado responsible for the construction of a state park, hospital, medical office building and restoration of a historic theater. From there he moved to Atlanta, Georgia where he worked for a multi-family real estate developer supervising the construction of garden style apartment complexes, extended stay hotels and high-rise condo towers. It was here that Robert gained an understanding and insight to the complexities of a real estate project seeing projects from land acquisition...design...partnership structuring... construction loan management... construction... permanent loan closing... property management... asset management and finally disposition.

Robert graduated from Purdue University in 1992 with a BS degree in Construction Management and pursued his postgraduate at Georgia State University receiving a Masters of Science in Real Estate in 2002. He has been designated a Certified Commercial Investment Member (CCIM), a designation held by only 4% of all commercial real estate practitioners and Real Property Administrator (RPA), the designation awarded property managers who have demonstrated excellence and experience in real estate management in both the classroom and business world. He has published numerous articles on marketing, leasing and property management issues and is the author of two books: Timing your Office Lease and Negotiating Office Space.

As President of The Miller Group, LLC, Robert oversees daily operations of the Property Management and Landlord Leasing consisting of a portfolio of approximately 575 tenants and 745,000 square feet of office, industrial, single tenant retail and multi-family residential properties. He is directly responsible for marketing, leasing, budgeting, investor reporting, staffing, and policy and procedure implementation.

Robert is a member of the Atlanta Commercial Board of Realtors and Atlanta Building Owners & Managers Association (BOMA). He served as the Chairman of the Experience and Exchange Report committee (EER) from 2000 to 2003. The EER is a national survey of Office Building income and expenses. This program surveys over 150,000 buildings across the country representing over 100 million square feet of office space. This survey is widely used by property managers, asset managers, researchers to forecast future operations of developments, provide benchmarks for comparison of office buildings and to estimate the performance of future acquisitions.

Robert is a member of Peachtree Presbyterian Church and has taken leadership roles in many church programs serving at Chair of the My95 program and currently serves as an Elder on the finance committee. Robert resides in Dunwoody, Georgia with his wife Meri of fifteen years and his three daughters: Summer, Katie and Abby.
